ABOUT

Clothes were the suit of armor, which is the smallest personal space for me. As a designer, I design clothes that can walk together with the hearts of someone who can be cowardly to show one's self, so that my clothes help them become stronger just by wearing them.

When I was young, I got out of the room and saw the starry sky from the window in the hospital corridor. It was beautiful. We know the beauty of looking up the freedom while being restricted. We are obsessed with "wanderlust" as we think of a free journey in the restriction of COVID-19. I have put my hopes in this collection to go find the Polaris to continue the journey of life.

Tell us about yourself!

Pulling in listeners with captivating lyrics and intimate melodies, Jeremiah Scott is an emerging music producer from Toronto, Canada, where he started producing beats at the age of 10, building a self-made career surrounded by music and art. Now living in Vancouver, B.C., he spends all of his time writing and releasing music for his solo project and developing his personal artistic identity as an artist.

Please describe your project.

Heading in to release his Sophomore album 'Stories' in 2021, Jeremiah Scott has had a surprisingly eventful year despite the current state of the world. His 2nd album single, 'With You' spent time on 'iTunes pop' charts in several countries, and the music video amassed 80,000 views to date. Following that up with his more recent album singles 'Starborn,' and 'Melodrama,' he is gaining traction through online communities worldwide, from his own releases, as well as his involvement in the Ice-Cream Truck Collective.
